Use of Consent
We ask for your consent to provide an initial quote and to contact you to keep you informed of developments here at Zero Deposit. You can withdraw your consent at any time, by getting in touch with our Data Protection Officer.

Terms of the Contract
Once you have taken a guarantee with us, we hold your data to allow the performance of the contract that we have with you.

Compliance with Our Obligations
As an FCA regulated business we must comply with a variety of legal and regulatory obligations, which may involve processing your personal data.

Our Legitimate Interests
Our legitimate interests overlap with some of the compliance and contractual terms. We have a legitimate interest in pursuing any debts owed to us following the payment of a claim to a landlord. We also have a legitimate interest in completing statistical analysis and using your data to help us understand trends in how customers use this product. When we do this, we will – where we can – anonymise your data. We use this data to improve the service we provide and the products we sell.

Protecting Your Information
Your privacy is important to us and we follow strict security procedures to make sure we only process your data when we need to. Your data is stored and disposed of securely.
We will deal with anyone named on the policy. It is not our policy to deal with your spouse, partner or parent without your written consent. If you would like someone else to deal with your policy on your behalf on a regular basis please let us know.

If you give us information about another person, in doing so you confirm that they have given you permission to provide it to us to be able to process their personal data (including any special personal data) and also that you have told them who we are and what we will use their data for, as set out in this privacy statement.

Confidentiality
We treat your personal information as private and confidential. We would like to bring to your attention our obligations to disclose information in the following four exceptional cases permitted by law, and the other situations as set out below. These are:

- Where we are legally compelled to do so;
- Where there is a duty to the public to disclose;
- Where disclosure is required to protect our interest;
- Where disclosure is made at your request or with your consent.

Also, from time to time we will employ agents and sub contractors to process your personal information on our behalf. The same duty of confidentiality and security will apply to them and all processing will be carried out under our instruction.

If you make a complaint about the service we have provided, we may be obliged to forward details about your complaint, including your personal information to the relevant Ombudsman, the insurer and to Lloyds.

In the unfortunate event that you have to make a claim then we will need to disclose information with any other party involved in that claim. This may include:

- Third parties involved with the claim, their insurer, solicitor or representative;
- Medical teams, the police or other investigators and Courts.

Call Monitoring and Recording
We record all calls. For the purposes of quality control, ensuring compliance with our legal obligations, handling complaints and defending legal claims, we may review and share that information.

Keeping Your Data
We will only keep your data for as long as it is needed.

Transfer of Data
We will not transfer your personal data to any countries that do not provide an adequate level of data protection. Your personal data may be disclosed to companies within the Group outside the EEA and to Service Providers outside the EEA.

Changes to this information notice
If we make changes to this information notice that affects how we process your information, we will let you know and publish any changes on our website.
